Welcome

1.1 Welcome to Enrich

Welcome to the team.

You have been selected for Enrich because of your precision and dedication to clinical excellence.

We specialize in the production of Autologous Serum and PRP Eye Drops — personalized therapies that harness the healing power of a patient’s own biology to treat severe ocular disease. In our field, there is zero margin for error. Every vial we produce represents a patient’s hope for a life free from chronic pain.

As a member of this team, you are expected to uphold our core pillars:

- Biological Integrity: Maintaining sterile, flawless processing for every autologous product.
- Clinical Excellence: Executing every protocol with surgical precision.
- Patient Impact: Recognizing that our success is measured by the quality of life we return to those we serve.

We are proud to have you on the front lines of regenerative medicine. Your work ensures that at Enrich, science meets compassion to restore vision.

Welcome to the mission.

1.2 Purpose of the Handbook

This handbook is your operational guide to the standards of Enrich. We operate in a high-precision field where biological integrity meets life-changing patient care. This document is designed to ensure every team member understands the protocols required to maintain our lead in the regenerative ophthalmology market.

Enrich's primary objective is to provide a work environment centered on clinical excellence. This handbook supports that goal by:

- Fostering Clinical Transparency: Ensuring every team member understands the gravity of our biological protocols and patient safety standards.
- Encouraging Communication: Acting as a resource for maintaining the "Zero-Defect" culture necessary for processing autologous therapies.

1.3 At-Will Employment

Enrich operates under an At-Will Employment policy. This means that the employment relationship is not bound by a fixed term and can be ended by either party at any time, with or without cause or notice.

That said, Enrich Company is committed to:

1. Adhering to all applicable labor laws and medical regulations.
2. Ensuring that all employment decisions are made fairly, equitably, and in compliance with our anti-discrimination and equal opportunity policies.

We value the trust of our team and aim to build long-lasting professional relationships based on mutual respect and a shared commitment to restoring patient health.

02

Workplace Commitments

2.1 Equal Opportunity Employment

Enrich is an equal opportunity employer. We are committed to a policy of providing equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, or genetics.

In our field of regenerative medicine, we believe that a diverse team brings the various perspectives necessary for innovation and excellence. This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment, including:

- Recruiting and hiring.
- Placement, promotion, and transfer.
- Training and development.
- Compensation and benefits.

2.2 Non-Harassment / Non-Discrimination

Enrich is committed to providing a work environment that is free from discrimination and unlawful harassment. Actions, words, jokes, or comments based on an individual's sex, race, color, national origin, age, religion, or any other legally protected characteristic will not be tolerated.

As a company focused on changing lives and clinical excellence, we require a workplace built on mutual respect. Harassment of any kind—whether by supervisors, co-workers, or vendors—is strictly prohibited and may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

2.3 Drug-Free / Alcohol- Free Workplace

Enrich maintains a zero-tolerance policy for drug and alcohol use. Because our work involves the precision processing of autologous biological therapies, there is no margin for impaired judgment. Reporting to work under the influence or possessing prohibited substances on company premises is strictly forbidden. We prioritize a "Zero-Defect" environment to ensure the safety of our team and the life-changing integrity of our products.

2.4 Open Door Policy

We believe clinical excellence thrives on transparent communication. Enrich maintains an "Open Door Policy," empowering all team members to share ideas or raise concerns directly with management. If you have suggestions for process improvements or workplace issues, we encourage you to speak freely with your supervisor. Our goal is to resolve matters quickly and fairly, fostering a culture of mutual respect and shared mission success.

03

Company Policy and Procedures

3.1 Code of Professional Conduct

At Enrich, our reputation is built on clinical integrity and absolute professionalism. We expect every team member to conduct themselves with the highest ethical standards, treating colleagues and patients with profound respect. Any behavior that compromises our "Zero-Defect" culture—including dishonesty, negligence in biological protocols, or unprofessionalism—will not be tolerated. We operate as a elite unit dedicated to restoring patient health through scientific excellence.

3.2 Dress Code

Your appearance reflects the precision of the Enrich brand. Employees are expected to maintain a clean, professional, and well-groomed image appropriate for a high-end clinical environment. For those in the processing center or patient-facing roles, specific attire (such as branded scrubs or protective gear) must be worn in accordance with safety and sterility protocols. When representing Enrich, dress for the high-stakes responsibility of changing lives.

3.3 Pay Day

At Enrich, we value the dedication you bring to our mission. Employees are paid [Bi-Weekly/Monthly] on [Day of the Week/Date]. To ensure efficiency and security, we utilize direct deposit as our primary payment method. It is your responsibility to ensure your banking information is current in our system. Any discrepancies in your pay should be reported immediately to administration so we can resolve the matter with the same precision we apply to our clinical work.

3.4 Company Property

Our clinical and operational infrastructure—from lab equipment to mobile hardware—is the backbone of the "Fortress" we are building. All equipment, keys, and digital accounts issued to you remain the property of Enrich and must be handled with extreme care. Any loss or damage should be reported instantly. Upon separation of employment, all company property must be returned in good condition to ensure the continued security of our biological protocols and business operations.

3.5 Privacy

At Enrich, we handle highly sensitive patient biological data and proprietary clinical protocols. Maintaining absolute confidentiality is non-negotiable. Employees must protect all non-public information, including patient identities, medical records, and internal business strategies. Unauthorized disclosure of company or patient information is a breach of our core "Zero-Defect" mandate and may result in immediate disciplinary action. We operate on a foundation of trust and total data integrity.

3.6 Personnel Files

Enrich maintains a confidential personnel file for each employee to ensure accurate record-keeping and compliance. This file includes your employment application, performance reviews, and compensation history. It is your responsibility to notify administration of any changes to your personal data, such as your address or emergency contact information. You may request to review your file in accordance with applicable laws by scheduling an appointment with the administrative department.

04

Employment Classification

4.1 Exempt Employees

Exempt employees are those who are not eligible for overtime pay as outlined in labor regulations. These employees typically hold positions in management, administration, or specialized roles that require decision-making and professional expertise. Exempt employees are expected to complete their assigned responsibilities regardless of the number of hours worked.

4.2 Non-Exempt Employees

Non-exempt employees are entitled to overtime pay for any hours worked beyond the standard 40-hour workweek in accordance with applicable labor laws. Overtime work must be approved in advance by a supervisor. Supervisors are responsible for ensuring that non-exempt employees' time is accurately tracked and compensated appropriately.

4.3 Part-Time, Full-Time, or Temporary Status

- Full-Time: Employees regularly scheduled to work at least 30–40 hours per week. They are eligible for Enrich's full benefits package.
- Part-Time: Employees scheduled for fewer than 30 hours per week.
- Temporary: Employees hired for a specific project or limited timeframe.

These classifications determine your eligibility for various benefit programs.

05

Attendance Policies

5.1 Punctuality and Attendance

Reliability is the bedrock of our clinical operations. Because we handle time-sensitive biological materials, Enrich expects all employees to be at their workstations and ready to begin work at their scheduled start time. Excessive tardiness or unscheduled absences disrupt our processing cycles and compromise patient care. Patterns of absenteeism will be addressed through our disciplinary process to ensure the integrity of our workflow remains intact.

5.2 Notification Procedures

We understand that emergencies occur. If you are unable to report to work, you must notify your direct supervisor at least [One/Two] hour(s) before your scheduled start time. This allows us to adjust our clinical rotation and ensure patient serum processing continues without interruption. Failure to provide proper notice or "No-Call, No-Show" incidents are considered serious breaches of professional conduct and may lead to immediate termination.

06

Leave Policies

6.1 Paid Time Off (PTO)

Enrich provides Paid Time Off (PTO) to all eligible full-time employees to ensure a healthy work-life balance. PTO is accrued based on your length of service and covers vacation, personal time, and illness.

Sick leave may be used for personal illness, medical appointments, or to care for an immediate family member.

Documentation

For absences exceeding 3 consecutive days, employees are required to provide a medical certificate.

On occasion, employees may require an extended leave of absence for personal reasons not covered by other policies. These unpaid leaves are granted at the discretion of Enrich leadership based on the nature of the request and our operational requirements. All requests must be submitted in writing, detailing the reason and the expected duration of the absence.

Work Performance

7.1 Expectations

At Enrich, we maintain a "Zero-Defect" standard. Every team member is expected to perform their duties with technical precision, a proactive mindset, and absolute dedication to patient safety. Excellence isn't an occasional goal; it is our daily baseline. You are expected to take full ownership of your role, adhere to all clinical protocols, and represent the Enrich brand with the highest level of professional integrity at all times.

7.2 Performance Reviews

Growth is essential to our collective success. Enrich conducts periodic performance reviews to provide a transparent assessment of your contributions, technical proficiency, and alignment with our core mission. These sessions are an opportunity for open dialogue, goal setting, and identifying pathways for professional development. We value continuous improvement and expect every employee to actively engage in the evolution of their craft.

Regular performance reviews are conducted to evaluate employee contributions, provide feedback, and identify opportunities for growth.

 Frequency Reviews are conducted semi-annually and may include a mid-year check-in.

 Criteria Reviews assess job performance, goal achievement, and adherence to company values.

Development Plans Based on the review, employees may receive recommendations for professional development or additional salary increase based on tenure.

Employees are encouraged to actively participate in the review process and provide feedback to their supervisors.

08

Discipline Policy

8.1 Grounds for Disciplinary Action

To maintain our clinical integrity, Enrich requires strict adherence to our professional standards. Grounds for disciplinary action include, but are not limited to:

- Negligence in biological or safety protocols.
- Dishonesty or falsification of records.
- Violation of confidentiality or HIPAA standards.
- Unprofessional conduct or harassment.
- Poor attendance or repeated tardiness. We view these standards as essential to the safety of our patients and the success of our team.

Employee Health and Safety

9.1 Workplace Safety

At Enrich, safety is a core clinical requirement. We are committed to providing a secure work environment that complies with OSHA standards and medical safety regulations. Every employee is responsible for maintaining a clean, hazard-free workspace and following all protocols for handling biological materials and laboratory equipment. Any workplace injury or unsafe condition — no matter how minor — must be reported to a supervisor immediately. Our "Zero-Defect" mandate begins with the physical safety of our team.

9.2 Workplace Security

The integrity of our facility is vital to protecting our patients' biological assets and our proprietary technology. All employees are expected to adhere to security protocols, including the proper use of key cards, securing sensitive data, and ensuring that unauthorized visitors do not enter restricted clinical areas. Surveillance and access logs are maintained to ensure the "Fortress" remains uncompromised. Personal belongings should be kept in designated areas, as the company is not responsible for lost or stolen personal items.

9.3 Emergency Procedures

In the event of an emergency — whether medical, fire, or environmental — the safety of our personnel is the first priority. Enrich maintains specific evacuation routes and emergency response plans which are posted throughout the facility. In any emergency, remain calm, follow the instructions of safety officers, and proceed to designated assembly points.
